

Asia Pacific Centre for Military Law

Lunchtime Seminar

The New System of International Criminal Justice and the International Criminal Court

Dr Luis Moreno-Ocampo
ICC Prosecutor

Friday 10 August 2007
at 1pm

The ICC is the first ever permanent judicial body with jurisdiction over genocide, crimes against humanity and war crimes. In this seminar, the Prosecutor will address the new system of international criminal justice being spearheaded by the Court.

"I deeply hope that the horrors humanity has suffered during the 20th century will serve us as a painful lesson, and that the creation of the International Criminal Court will help us to prevent those atrocities from being repeated in the future."

Statement made by Luis Moreno-Ocampo on the occasion of his election as first Prosecutor of the International Criminal Court by the Assembly of States Parties in New York on 22 April 2003.

Date: Friday 10 August 2007
Time: 1 – 2pm
Venue: Room 106, First Floor
Melbourne University Law School
185 Pelham Street, Carlton VIC 3053

RSVP by 8 August to
Cathy Hutton
Administrator
Asia Pacific Centre for Military Law
Melbourne Law School
The University of Melbourne, Victoria 3010 Australia
law-apcml@unimelb.edu.au ('ICC seminar' in heading, please)
Tel: (03) 8344 4775